

Photos Of Our Event At UCLA Family Commons

Description

Porcha and I were so honored to speak about our book at The UCLA Family Commons on Oct. 27th. The parents who attended were wonderful and asked insightful questions about applying to private elementary schools. Thanks to everyone who joined us! And, a special thank you to The UCLA Family Commons for hosting the event!

If you haven't seen this beautiful new family center in Santa Monica, check it out! "Keeping Your Family In Balance" is the center's theme. They offer coaching for family, parenting and school issues, workshops for parenting at every stage and resources and support for families of children with special needs and learning disabilities.

www.uclacommons.com

Category

1. Beyond The Brochure

Date Created

November 7, 2010

Author

admin