

Third Grade Native American Study Unit at The Willows Community School

Description

Third graders at The Willows Community School presented the culmination of their Native American Study Unit, designed to enhance their knowledge of Native American culture. My son and his classmates worked on a series of classroom projects that included writing assignments, iSearch technology and art. The photos below show the amazing baskets, woven from looms the kids created on a paper plate in art class. The kids loved constructing and playing in the teepee.

Baskets woven by 3rd graders on looms created on paper plates

Teepee

Category

1. Beyond The Brochure
2. Posts About Individual Schools

Tags

1. 3rd Grade Native American Project
2. Willows Community School

Date Created

May 18, 2012

Author

admin

default watermark