A Simple Thought…

Description

Everything will be okay in the end.

if it's not okay, it's not the end.

(unknown) From the blog, The English Muse

I came across the poem above and loved it for its simplicity. It is so relevant to the private elementary school application process. The admissions process is infused with so many emotions and this poem resonates with so much wisdom. I'm completely enamored with it and I have it posted in my little home office. I hope you like Watermark it too!

Happy Thanksgiving!

Category

1. Beyond The Brochure

Date Created November 25, 2010 Author admin