

“Cracking The Kindergarten Code” in New York Magazine

Description

Cracking The Kindergarten Code: Demystifying the process of getting your child into a good school, in eleven easy lessons in New York Magazine is about fiercely competitive New York City private schools. So, just substitute Crossroads for Dalton and read it as if you’re talking about Los Angeles schools. The article points out that the importance of your preschool director can’t be underestimated. I agree that your preschool director can be a huge asset and help during the admissions process. I’ve written about that before here and here.

Don’t miss a thing! Like Beyond The Brochure on Facebook for blog posts, articles, events and more!

Category

1. Beyond The Brochure

Date Created

November 11, 2015

Author

admin

default watermark