

Waiting, Types of Letters, Admitted, Wait-Listed or Shut-Out: Weâ€™ve Got It Covered

Description

Love This!

 Update: Since this post was written, many schools now notify families by email or use the Ravenna system for parents to log in to find out the schoolâ€™s admissions decision.*

Hereâ€™s a round-up of our some of most popular posts on selecting a school if your child is admitted, what to do if you child is wait-listed, being denied admission and hiring an educational consultant to help get your child off the wait-list. Please note that Porcha Dodson, Beyond The Brochure co-author tells us that schools only use email to send good news acceptance letters. Most schools donâ€™t send wait-list or declined admission emails. Also, weâ€™ve head from several sources that PS#1 Elementary Schoolâ€™s admissions director Andrea Roth, resigned this week.

Waiting For Admissions Letters by Jenny Heitz

Various Types of Admissions Letters by Kim Hamer

Good News: How To Choose

O/X: Whatâ€™s Next When You Donâ€™t Get In?

Confronting Rejection: When Your All Isnâ€™t Enough

Tips For If Your Child Is Wait-Listed

Hiring An Educational Consultant To Go From Wait-Listed To Accepted

Choosing A School: Every School Tells A Story Part 1

Choosing A School: Every School Tells A Story Part 2 by Jenny Heitz

How Could Choosing A School Be So Hard? What I Did/Did Not Expect About The Willows School

Even Better!

Category

1. Accepted!
2. Admissions Letters
3. Admissions Letters: Accepted
4. Beyond The Brochure
5. Declined Admission
6. Posts About Individual Schools

Tags

1. accepted
2. choosing a school
3. declined admission
4. wait-listed
5. waiting for admissions letters

Date Created

March 23, 2012

Author

admin

default watermark