

The Big 6 Private Elementary Feeder Schools To Harvard- Westlake

Description

There seems to be an endless fascination on the part of us private elementary school types about feeder schools to Harvard-Westlake. Understandable, right? Unclear. The chatter continues—including at a boisterous and fun dinner party at my house last night (eight adults and eight kids). A few of the guests were very “in-the-know” about all things Harvard-Westlake. * Updated May 9, 2019 to add Laurence School.

Here are the top private elementary schools that serve as “feeders” to Harvard-Westlake:

- Carlthorp, Santa Monica
- Curtis School, Bel Air
- The Center For Early Education, West Hollywood*
- John Thomas Dye, Bel Air
- Mirman School For The Gifted, Mulholland
- Laurence School, Valley Glen

However, Harvard-Westlake accepts students from more than 60 schools, including UCLA Lab School, The Willows, Turning Point, Sinai Akiba, Paul Revere, Lincoln Middle School, and more.
