Description

Manzanita School is a new private school in Topanga. It is a progressive school for grades 4-9. According to the school's website the school's natural surroundings on 20 acres will play an important role in the curriculum. "The strong pedagogical movement, "place-based education," has illuminated the importance of connecting our schooling to the local environment."

I was raised in Topanga and I know exactly where this school is located and it would be an amazing experience to attend a school in such a beautiful, peaceful location. "Christina
