

Weekend Links: Spring Break

Description

Big waterslide at Arizona Grand Resort

Happy Weekend!

Hope youâ€™re all having a great spring break! We spent a few wonderful days in Arizona with several other Viewpoint School families. Our kids had a blast at a hotel that had 3 big watersides, a pool and a swirling lazy river. My daughter and her friend babysat the younger kids for the first time while the grown-ups had a fabulous dinner at The Arrogant Butcher. Back to school on Monday, well-rested and happy. â€”Christina

Here are a few of my favorite links for weekend reading:

Funny article about what happens when a mom brings the â€œwrongâ€• potato to her daughterâ€™s preschool for Spud Day. Oh, the perfectionism of it all! (Brainchild)

I shared this on BTBâ€™s Facebook Page, an interesting read. The writer captures some of the most common notions about public and private schools in an interesting way. (Salon)

What happens when you dislike your kidâ€™s teacher? Or, her style rubs you the wrong way. It happens. (Literary Mama)

Cool ways librarians are helping English language learners who are loyal patrons in school and public libraries. (School Library Journal)

Category

1. Beyond The Brochure

Date Created

April 4, 2015

Author

admin

default watermark